Warning.

It has been the custom in Bow Island (the same, we presume, as in other towns) during the past few years for boys and girls to take advantage of Halloween night and imitate the pranks and antics of the goblins who are popularly supposed to be abroad that evening. Considerable leniency has been displayed in the past, and this apparently has been accepted by our juvenile population in the belief that it gives them full liberty to indulge in a variety of mischievous actions. Last year, however, the annoyance caused in the business section by the covering of windows with soap and paint, not to mention other materials, and the loss of time occasioned thereby in cleaning up the next day, made our law-enforcers determined not to suffer it another year. Next Tuesday a member of the I.N.W.M.P. will be on hand and anyone caught or found annoying the residents will be taken to the "coop," with the certain prospect of facing the J.P. in the morning.

THE PRICE OF NEWS-PAPERS.

The increase in the price of printing paper has become so serious that publishers are getting together to devise measures to meet the situation. Many have already increased their subscription rates and some have been forced to suspend publication.

We are advised, however, by the publishers of The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal that for the present, anyway, there will be no increase in the price of that paper, and we are permitted to offer The Family Herald and Weekly Star along with The Review for the small sum of $2.00, that is one full year's subscription to each paper.

This offer is good only until Nov. 30, 1916, as it may be found necessary to make a change then.

The Publishers of The Family Herald and Weekly Star notwithstanding the enormous increase in cost of production, have decided to spend more money than ever improving the paper, and to give their great army of readers greater value than ever.

A full year's subscription to The Review and The Family Herald and Weekly Star will cost only $2.00, provided orders are received before Nov. 30, 1916. Send your subscription to this office.

If you want a vote get your name on the list at once.

WEDDING.

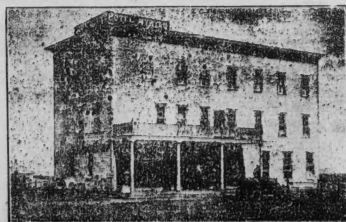

A quiet wedding took place at Fifth Ave. Methodist church, Medicine Hat, on Wednesday, October 18th, when Rev. A. S. Tuttle united in marriage Rev. Henry Smith Esq., of Burdett, and Annie Amelia Jones, of Maclean, Nova Scotia. The groom is the popular pastor of the Methodist church at Burdett. The happy young couple left after the ceremony for their home in Burdett.

CANADIAN NORTHERN ACQUIRE ROAD.

New York, Oct. 25.—The Sun, this morning, publishes a story on "High authority," that Sir Donald Mann and Sir William Mackenzie have completed negotiations for the purchase of the Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad. The latter road, which runs from Watertown, S. D., to the Canadian border, was constructed by Edwin Hawley and his associates for the transportation of wheat and other commodities. Through a man closely associated in the negotiations, the Sun says, it was learned that the Grand Trunk was also interested in the transaction.

Mayor Robertson received a Sailors' Relief Fund. A few of these have been distributed, but any one who desires to show their appreciation of our this fund. Whilst we do not expect to raise this sum in Bow Island yet there is no reason why a respectable amount should not be collected.

This is simply another test of your patriotism. What's it

Notes by the Way

By "MINIMUS"

Few things are a greater delight to the preacher, I am told, than the snappy articles which deal with popular belief in such papers as "John Bull," and journals like the "Eyapenses." The fact is, and often their wisdom, makes up for the paronizing attitude sometimes adopted.
I must say I enjoy them. And after all, the only way for the preacher to help the man who wants to believe and cannot, is, first of all, to understand the difficulties. One eye on the Bible and the other on the "Eyapenses." That is the motto for preachers, —and others.

A recent article, of bright and kindly nature, in the latter journal has just come to my notice. The writer (best thing about him), is really scapping for light. He is weary of spending the eyes of his brethren. He wishes to have his own eyes opened.
He enumerates very many ancient stumbling blocks. The same ones of the services in church, he says, is boring after a work of the Movies.
He admits the Movies are slowly killing good spoken drama and taking away the capacity for solid thinking.
There is truth in this. Movies are slight but you want something else.

The writer's soul is sick. He knows it. More he shows it. He doesn't have a way of saying "Put your tongue out, and describe your symptoms." The opener of eyes is putting his tongue out. And the verdict is "Too much Movies, my boy, try a little Christian Evidence, and cut out all this politics dog for a bit."

And so the preachers are always talking about him, are they? "Paul always has long, long Paul, heavy on Paul." Well, Mr. Peter, I always sympathize with him much more.
You see Peter was a snub and a coward and ashamed of his Master. The little servant girl frightened him into denying everything. Oh, yes, Peter was a very ordinary man. But afterwards he was among the flies. He was a real man, and fought like a wildcat for the One he denied. Yes, Peter is now looking at.

But O, opener of Eyes, surely all this dope about the failure and meaninglessness of Christianity is a little out of date. The Christians are few and far between. Don't call Canada or Germany Christian. Certain Christian principles have prevailed to do it, but the average man is "anything but." Christianity has not been cried, except by a few men. Few and far between are the disciples of the Opener of Eyes who say their prayers and worship. Most of the readers of the Review do not make up their mind about it. They have not tried it.
They are so busy having optical treatment from our friend, and even he is now in despair.

O No, never has the full meaning of Christianity flashed upon the soul as today. Progress through Suffering. In the centre of humanity—Suffering. In the centre of Christianity—a Cross. The worst thing is not death. Sin and dishonour are worse.
The war has turned Bottomley upside down. He might have succeeded the freethinker Foots, he says, but now, "I believe that God has a divine purpose for not only the blood of heroes but equally for the tears of women." I believe in God and in the immortality of the human soul of man. The great world war has done it." His eyes are opened.

Wilmut & Henderson have sold during the past week the following cars: A D.M. McLaughlin to Mr. Campbell of Burdett, whilst each of the following have purchased a 1900 McLaughlin —Leo Howe, Burdett; F. Beckwith, Windfall, and A. C. Gage, Bow Island.

"The neighborhood around our farm has been greatly enlarged since we purchased our car nearly two years ago," said one of our farmers to the Review recently. "Friends living six or eight miles apart you are apt to lose sight of when you have to use a wagon or a buggy. The car has related all that. We can now renew visits with our old friends. I rather like the women on the farm get more out of the car than the men. Now we can get into Bow Island once or twice a week, do our own trading, visit the movies, and get home early, whereas previously we used to visit town about once in two months."

"In my opinion the automobile is going to be even more than now the par excellence farm machine. It is of far more importance to the farmer than it ever was to any one in the city. It shortens distances until the people of a rural community are in "anything but" together, it adds that social atmosphere that we hoped to get through the telephone but which we did not."

Transportation is a big word and also a big problem to the farmer. A considerable amount of money, time, and labor may be either gained or lost, according to the choice of means on the part of the farmer himself.
The average farmer has a considerable amount of traveling to do on the road, either hauling farm products to town, or driving on business or otherwise, and the amount of time it takes is a very important factor in the yearly routine of farm labor.

ADVERTISING.

If there is one enterprise on earth that a quilter should leave severely alone it is advertising. To make a success of advertising, one must be prepared to stick like a barnacle on a boat's bottom. He should know before he begins that he must spend money—lots of it! He should know that he cannot hope to reap results commensurate with his advertising early in the game. Advertising does not jerk; it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day and year by year until it acquires an irresistible power.—John Wansauker.

Fire Prevention In Schools

Early Attention to School Supplies is Suggested. Are Destroyed.

The protection of pupils from fire and panic is the first duty of those in charge of schools. The first duty should be to see that the school is fireproof. The first duty should be to see that the school is fireproof. The first duty should be to see that the school is fireproof.

In an eastern city, within ten days after the opening of the last school term, two fires occurred, fortunately during the absence of the pupils. In these schools fire drill had been undertaken at the inception of the term. The occurrence of fire so early in the school term, however, demonstrates the necessity of giving first attention to this form of security to pupils.

The principal and teachers should also familiarize themselves with the school building, and the various conditions for immediate action.

Accumulations of papers, disused furniture and school supplies are stored in barns and outbuildings, and are a great fire hazard. These should be removed, and the school building should be fireproofed.

The care of waste paper is important. Metal waste paper should be burned as soon as it is possible, and not allowed to accumulate. The burning should be done in a safe place, away from frame outbuildings or fences, and should be carefully supervised by either the teacher personally or by some reliable senior pupil.

The heating stoves in the school should be carefully examined, and the chimneys should be cleaned. The stoves should be carefully examined, and the chimneys should be cleaned.

Asbestos should be kept in metal containers and should be deposited near frame buildings or wooden fences. Wood should not be placed close to the stove or furnace to dry. This is a very dangerous practice, and has caused many fires.

All doors leading from classrooms, corridors and school buildings should be locked during school hours. In the larger schools where a janitor is employed it is the duty of his duty to make a daily inspection of the school building, and to see that the doors are locked.

The position of janitor or caretaker of a school is an important one. The custody of valuable property and the protection of the school building are his duties. He should be given the necessary training and equipment to do his job.

There has been a material reduction in the number of school fires during the past few years. In 1913 there were 45 school fires, in 1914 there were 26, while in 1915 there were 15. This is a very encouraging trend, and it is hoped that it will continue.

Germany's Naval Base a Haven of Refuge for Purged War Veterans.

In 1890 Heligoland was formally ceded to Germany in return for concessions made to Germany in the Africa. This small island in the North Sea was taken over by the British in 1897 and made a depot for British merchandise; it remained for 52 years a British possession of Great Britain and was ceded to Germany in 1890, since that time it has been strongly fortified and is now the base for the German Navy.

Heligoland, situated 25 miles northwest of the mouth of the Elbe, consists of a steep, rocky plateau with a strip of fine sand on its south-east face. The laws are the old Prussian laws. North Prussia is the native tongue, but German is currently spoken. The fishers are Frisian, a tall and muscular race, and the farmers are simple and primitive in their habits and holding land in common.

The island has a long history of immigration from Hamburg and other places on the mainland to its descendants. As an advanced naval base, it has been the scene of the use by the German navy during the present war, especially as a haven of refuge when British submarines were in pursuit. According to tradition, Heligoland was the first place where the first of the 17th century.

It was the last 26 years denoting attacks on the island, which have reduced the area of the island by one-fifth. The island was a sanctuary for the golden Hertha and Christianity was first preached there by St. Wilfried the 7th century.

A RICKETY AFFAIR.

In a sense there is no Austria. There is no Austrian language. The Austro-Hungarian empire is a collection of mutually hostile nationalities, fighting each other in the name of force and fear. It is a rickety affair, and it is a rickety affair.
